1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 The Australian Bureau of Statistics compiles a variety of statistics relevant to building and construction.

1.2 While statistics of building and construction activity are essentially the responsibility of the Building and Construction Sub-section, other Bureau areas also compile statistics relevant to building and construction.

1.3 The aim of this index is to list all available statistics produced by the Bureau, which relate to building and construction. Some statistics are readily available in the form of regularly published bulletins. Others, though not published are available on request, generally in the form of photoreduced computer printout tabulations.

1.4 This revised index incorporates a number of new entries, such as the Construction (Other Than Building) Operations bulletin (Reference No. 3.8) and many minor amendments and improvements. Inquiries concerning listings in this index may be made in Canberra by telephoning Mr Greg Reedman on 52 5438.

4.2.4 A large number of tabulations are not published because of their complexity and size, but are available on request (see explanatory notes below). A listing of all relevant tabulations (both published and unpublished) showing class of dwelling cross classified by a wide range of variables, follows the explanatory notes below.

Supply of Unpublished Tabulations

4.2.5 Enquiries concerning the supply of data from any of the unpublished tabulations should be directed to:

The Australian Statistician,
Attention: Population Census Branch,
CANBERRA, ACT 2600

or to the office of the Bureau of Statistics in each State Capital City and Darwin.

4.2.6 Most unpublished tabulations are in the form of computer printout or held on magnetic tape in the form of tabulation matrices. Users who request cross-tabulations should be familiarised with the format of these tabulations if only segments of multi-dimension tabulations are needed. In a tabulation with 4 variables e.g. A x B x C x D the order in which these variables are printed is D and C, A, B, i.e. the first printed page would present D and C for A_1, B_1 followed by $A_1, B_2, \dots, A_1, B_n$; then $A_2, B_1, A_2, B_2, \dots, A_2, B_n$ etc.

4.2.7 As resources for providing these tabulations are limited and restricted to photocopy or clerical extraction, it would be appreciated if enquirers would specify their requirements precisely, particularly with respect to multi-dimension tables where all variables or all geographic levels are not required.

4.2.8 For more detailed explanatory notes, see Bulletin 14: Catalogue of 1971 Cen. Tabulations (Preliminary) ppvii-ix, available from the above address.

DEFINITIONS OF DWELLING

Please note that the concept 'dwelling' used by the Population Census Branch, varies somewhat from that used by the Building and Construction Sub-section.

Definition of dwelling used by Population Census Branch

An occupied dwelling is defined as any habitation occupied on Census night by a household group and may comprise the whole or only a part of a building. A household group is a person or group of persons living and eating together. The number of occupied dwellings and the number of households are therefore identical.

An unoccupied dwelling is defined as a structure built specifically for private living purposes and which is habitable, though unoccupied at the time of the Census.

Non-private dwellings are those dwellings which provide group-accommodation such as hotels, motels, hostels, and staff quarters and institutions such as hospitals, nursing homes, prisons, boarding schools, etc., and which were occupied on Census night. For such dwellings no details of the characteristics other than class of dwelling were sought.

Persons who on Census night were camping out, travelling on board ships in Australian waters or between two Australian ports, or who were enumerated on long distance trains, buses or aircraft were not regarded as living in a dwelling for census purposes and are shown under 'campers-out' and 'migratory'. Persons classified as campers-out include those living temporarily in tents, caravans or houseboats or who were camped out on Census night. Tents, huts, caravans or houseboats which were being used to provide semi-permanent accommodation were classified as dwellings.

Definition of dwelling used by Building and Construction Sub-section

Dwellings are classified uniformly in all States and Territories as either houses or other dwellings. For this purpose, a house is defined as a building which has been designed or adapted so that its prime purpose is a single self-contained dwelling unit which is completely detached from other buildings; and occupies (except in such cases as dwellings built for employees or families of the owner or lessee of the land) a separate titled block of land. Dwellings described as flats, semi-detached, home units, villa units, duplexes, etc., are classified as other dwellings. Non-self-contained dwelling units such as might be found in motels, hostels and institutions, are not included as dwellings and the value of this building is included in the appropriate category of other buildings approved. Temporary or makeshift dwellings are excluded from building statistics. In most States and Territories the introduction of these concepts has led to insignificant changes in the statistical series. However, in South Australia and Western Australia a break in continuity has arisen because of the previous practice of classifying dwellings such as semi-detached, home units, villa units, duplexes, etc. as houses. The numbers of other dwellings shown relate to individual dwelling units.
